PASS THE SALT

The attitude "Pass the Salt" is that we thoughtfully consider the perspective of outsiders in all we do.

PRESERVATION + FLAVOR

The two primary uses of salt in the first-century, Middle Eastern world were:

1. Preservation - Keeping meat/fish from decay and spoil

Spiritual Parallel:

2. Flavor - enhancing the taste of the meat/fish and making it more enjoyable

Spiritual Parallel:

It was an art and science in determining how much salt to be used.

No salt or not enough salt would result in spoiled meat.

Too much salt would result in hardened, dried out meat that was too salty to eat.
