You Are, So That You May

Identity and Purpose

- There's an unmistakable link between identity and purpose.
- We're conditioned to believe that what we do determines who we are.
- Society determines our value according to what we do.
- God says, "I will tell you who you are and what your value is to me, and that will determine your purpose."

Identity (achieved through union with Christ)

- Chosen Race

- Royal Priesthood

- Holy Nation

- People for His Possession

Purpose: "So that you may proclaim…"

The world says your identity is determined by what you do, but God says it is determined by your faith in what He did.
